

November 2008

Vehicle Recovery Services - UK

The vehicle recovery services market is facing difficult times. Although worth £1.56 billion in 2007 and having risen in value by 7% since 2003, the market is currently seeing the effects of stagnation. A near stable customer base combined with falling vehicle sales and increased price competition has led ...

October 2008

Cars - UK

It's often said that after a house, a motor car is the most important purchase that most people will make in their lifetime. With the global economy apparently in meltdown in late 2008, and UK house prices finally falling after more than a decade of unprecedented growth, what does the ...

August 2008

Car Retailing - UK

This report addresses the car retail market in the UK, discussing current trends and issues in the market and future prospects, last examined by Mintel in its report Car Retailing – UK, Retail Intelligence, August 2006.

July 2008

Motorcycles and Scooters - UK

Registrations of new motorcycles boomed in 2007 after several flat years. Rising fuel prices and increased road congestion are two factors contributing to this. Media coverage has also inspired more people to look at a two-wheeler as a tool for adventure and fun.

February 2008

Car Accessories - UK

Worth an estimated £280 million in 2007, the car accessories market has been flat in recent years, being

Automotive - UK

somewhat overshadowed by the performance of must-have gadgets such as satellite navigation systems.