

January 2013

Consumers, Saving and Investing
- UK

“By establishing partnerships with well-known ‘cashback’ websites, financial services providers can help people free up extra cash that can be used for saving. Whenever a purchase is made via one of these websites, the cashback earned could automatically be paid into a linked savings account.”