

March 2023

Consumers and Financial Advice - UK

“The digitisation of advice creates opportunities for advisers to find new markets and cater for a wider audience. However, there needs to be a concerted and collective industry effort to define the many different types of digital solution that now exist, in order to improve clarity for, and understanding by ...