

January 2020

New Retail - China

“Today’s Chinese consumers are used to shopping online for most consumer goods, yet physical venues remain vital for categories where consumers don’t have much knowledge and need guidance. China is on the cutting edge of developing new technologies and innovative retailing features, and the online channel will continue to become ...