

March 2015

Construction - UK

“The construction market consistently exaggerates economic development when there is an upturn, which often leads to prolific market growth. This inevitably means that skills shortages emerge, with material shortages also reported in the house building sector, which was the first to emerge from the previous downturn.”

– Terry Leggett ...