

May 2023

The Working Life - Ireland

“The disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic to the employment market revealed opportunities to refresh the working arrangement of many consumers, with a shift to remote working during the pandemic having a lasting impact through hybrid working, which many consider to be a more flexible and accommodating way of working. This ...