

March 2016

Railway Engineering - UK

“The government is not expected to get heavily involved in the procurement of future rolling stock for the existing railway, as has been the case with recent major orders for IEP, Thameslink and Crossrail. The stated government policy is for train operators and financiers to lead the planning and delivery ...