Marketing to Seniors - Canada

“Companies don’t need to reinvent the wheel when catering to seniors. As a consumer group, they are much more engaged and much more tech savvy than they get credit for. This lifestage informs their sense of ‘value’. Like younger consumers, seniors are keen on experiential elements, not because they are ...

Dining Out - Canada

“Restaurants have faced unprecedented challenges since March 2020. Not only were they directly impacted by government restrictions, but more time at home for consumers meant less overall demand for foodservice.

The industry is now looking ahead to the future. They will need more tactical messaging to encourage diners to visit ...

Marketing to Millennials - Canada

“There is a real sense that the Millennial generation is one that strives for stability. Younger Millennials are at a phase in life where they are newer to living as independent adults and are therefore working hard to establish solid financial footing. The economic impact of the pandemic has been ...

Travel in 2021 - Canada

“The travel and tourism industry is among the most adversely affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, and will take the long road to recovery. It will take the widespread availability of vaccines for consumers to feel safe to travel again; however, many will not be comfortable anytime soon. Canadians will stick ...

Meal Planning and Preparation - Canada

“Consumers are cooking more at home thanks to the pandemic and constantly up-ended routines are putting the logistics of meal planning and cooking to the test. Currently, a protective mindset drives Canadians to shop online more for groceries and make fewer micro-trips. Looking ahead, continued reliance on e-commerce and flexible ...

The Budget Shopper - Canada

“Consumers will come away from the pandemic being choosier about which businesses they want to support as ideas surrounding value and what’s essential have likely been recalibrated. Where ‘basic’ meant affordable and safe at the start of the pandemic, consumers will seek to support businesses that offer value in the ...

Pet Retail - Canada

“Stay-at-home mandates due to the COVID-19 pandemic has seen pet owners spending more time at home with their furry loved ones. With pet owners likely having deepened the bond with their pet during this period, many will not hold back on spoiling their pets and looking out for their wellbeing ...

Healthy Lifestyles - Canada

“Regardless if it’s exercising or eating an indulgent snack, choosing a healthy or unhealthy behaviour because we want to feel better is something we can all relate to. Health management is about balancing needs on a continuum. While most strive towards making choices that align with health goals, sometimes a ...

Beauty Retailing - Canada

“The meteoric lifestyle impacts of COVID-19 have driven Canadians to take a more relaxed approach to their beauty routines. Hygiene and maintenance products will remain at the top of shoppers’ beauty and personal care lists, while discretionary categories will be demoted in importance, particularly in light of the economic downturn ...
