

December 2014

Building Products (Industrial Report) - UK

“The building products market comprises a diverse range of products, virtually all of which are enjoying significantly improved conditions in 2014, following a trend that started to emerge in 2013. Future prospects are for strong growth with construction continuing to be at the forefront of overall UK economic development. However ...

Passive Fire Protection Equipment (Industrial Report) - UK

“Demand for passive fire materials has been challenged in recent years with low levels of construction activity. However, new build prospects are far stronger than the overall economy, and this will result in strong demand for passive fire products and materials over the next few years. Individual product areas have ...

November 2014

Underground Pipes (Industrial Report) - UK

“The separate aspects of the underground pipes market are subject to very different influences, including the long-term spending plans of utilities, where years of under investment continues to be addressed; the highly variable construction market, which tends to exaggerate overall economic vagaries; and political policy and public spending activity. These ...

October 2014

Tubes and Pipes (Industrial Report) - UK

“As a mature sector, albeit one where material substitution has been a major feature in the last few years, market conditions for tubes and pipes notably improved as the year progressed in 2013. Moreover, 2014 is witnessing further growth, as expectations of continued market development have now replaced the stop-start ...

Roofing Materials (Industrial Report) - UK

“Market conditions for roofing materials and contractors notably improved as the year progressed in 2013, and 2014 is witnessing a substantial increase in demand. The magnitude of the growth in 2014 is not sustainable, but increases in demand will continue to be a market feature over the next five years ...

February 2014

Residential Windows and Doors (Industrial Report) - UK

“As 2013 progressed, virtually all of the factors that had previously suppressed the growth of the windows and doors market materially changed, and a period of sustained growth can now be expected. The most significant factors that did not are the availability of credit, but this too will slowly ease over the next few years; and high penetration levels of ...

B2B: Construction - UK