Consumer Attitudes towards Challenger Brands - UK

“Consumer expectations of financial services providers are growing, giving challengers an opportunity to meet people’s needs where the more traditional providers cannot. However, increasing awareness levels and highlighting their differences will be key to consumer consideration of challengers. Beyond this, they will also need to prove they can get the ...

Financial Capability - UK

“Engaging consumers early and making it easy for them to develop good habits and pick up knowledge is key to raising financial capability. Developments such as the introduction of compulsory financial education and the launch of the UK Financial Capability Strategy have put financial capability at the heart of strategy ...

Consumers and the Economic Outlook: Quarterly Update - UK

“For the UK, the EU referendum is one of the defining moments of the 21st Century so far, with long-term implications that will rival events as seismic as the financial crisis. The truth is, though, that this early in the process there has been little direct impact on most people’s ...

Family Finances - UK

“Balancing day-to-day expenses like food, bills and childcare makes it difficult for families to save and plan for the long term. Changing family dynamics are also putting added pressure on family finances. More ‘adult children’ are choosing to remain in the family household, and as such, their need for additional ...

Consumers and the Economic Outlook: Quarterly Update - UK

“Mintel’s consumer confidence data shows that the economy only has, at best, an indirect impact on sentiment. When the UK economy was outperforming most of its peers, many people were still pretty wary. However, in 2016 sentiment has continued to trend upwards, despite disappointing growth in the economy as a ...

Loyalty in Financial Services - UK

“Loyalty is a confusing concept for consumers. There is indecision as to how to best measure loyalty and how it should be rewarded. This causes challenges for providers as it is difficult for them to devise loyalty strategies which will be popular with customers.”
