

Technology and Media - Canada

March 2018

Mobile Phones - Canada

"As mobile technology becomes increasingly imperative to 21st century consumption, the mobile phone will be the control centre for consumers. The market is competitive among both software and hardware developers, and with a relatively short product lifecycle, there is ample opportunity for brands to win customers over. Looking forward, connectivity ...