

September 2006

Media Centers and Set-top Boxes - US

A set-top box is an electronic device that is connected to a communication channel, such as a phone, ISDN or cable television line, and produces output on a conventional television screen. Set-top boxes fall into several categories, from the simplest that receive and unscramble incoming television signals to the more ...

August 2006

Mobile Phones and Phone Service - US

In 2005, the United States mobile phone industry generated revenues of $129 billion. Cell phone ownership is most impacted by household income, while cell phone usage and attitudes are most influenced by age. Mintel identifies multiple high usage groups that drive adoption: young adults (18-44) with a penchant for technological ...

Wireless Living - US

The wireless living market includes an assortment of wireless devices used in the home context and covers usage of cellular phones as the primary house phone only.

Video Game Console Systems - US

This report covers sales of new video game consoles and software for the following gaming platforms: Sony PS2 and PS3; Microsoft Xbox and Microsoft Xbox360; Nintendo GameCube and Nintendo Wii.