

January 2013

Alcohol Retailing - Ireland

The alcohol retailing industry in Ireland is currently faced with many challenges, such as a fragile economy, the binge drinking culture and its associated health and societal costs. Indeed, the debate surrounding these issues has resulted in a raft of legislative measures to tackle the irresponsible consumption of alcohol that ...