Dark Spirits and Liqueurs - UK

“After a sharp drop in the dark spirit and liqueur market in 2020, the reopening of hospitality over spring and summer 2021 saw sales rapidly regain momentum. However, with the expected pressures on household finances in 2022 caused by rising inflation, the market will see another year of gradual recovery ...

Supermarkets - UK

“Both 2020 and 2021 will have been record years for grocery retail in the UK. 2021 may not fully match the demand seen in 2020, but fundamental changes in working life for many and persistent hesitancy for some around visiting out-of-home venues means demand remains heightened. Online has been the ...

RTD Alcoholic Beverages - US

“The strong attention placed on the RTD alcoholic beverages category leading into 2020, driven by seltzer excitement and prepared cocktail quality improvements, was further intensified amid the pandemic. Home drinkers looking for convenient variety gave the category a shot and explored within it, moving RTDs from occasional party drinks to ...

White Spirits - US

“Although the pandemic dampened on-premise spirit consumption and the total market in 2020, it accelerated the growth of trends in the spirits market that will ultimately benefit white spirits brands who follow them: a love of premium spirits, creative at-home cocktails and RTD options that casualize and extend white spirits ...

Eating Out Review - UK

“Four in five Britons ordered takeaways in 2021 as COVID-19 has well and truly accelerated the shift towards home delivery services, giving consumers more choices than ever before.

Still, many people are tempted out by an increasingly diverse and high quality dining scene, with on-premise participation driven by consumers making ...

Attitudes towards Cooking in the Home - UK

“COVID-19 has resulted in more meals being eaten at home, and driven an increase in scratch cooking, a trend that was already being seen before the pandemic. Home cooks still place a high value on convenience and shortcuts to cooking though, offering good news for brands in prepared ingredients. Home ...

The Future of Foodservice: 2022 - US

“The foodservice industry has been one of the hardest hit by the pandemic, but also saw operators rapidly evolve to serve changed consumer needs related to value, safety, and convenience. Even amid continued labor, supply, and inflation challenges, the foodservice industry is beginning to recover. After accelerating technological advancements that ...

Consumer Approach to Nutrition - US

“Consumers approach nutrition with the best of intentions towards being healthier and feeling better. But external factors like household income complicate their ability to prioritize nutrition and even the ability to put mental effort into looking at labels or counting calories. Clearly labelling products as low sugar, high protein or ...

Perimeter of the Store - US

“Fresh food departments in the perimeter that offer ingredients for home meal prep have seen a substantial boost in the pandemic as consumers have spent more time in the kitchen. To keep sales elevated in the long

Cooking Sauces, Pasta Sauces and Marinades - US

“After a 2020 with unprecedented growth of 23%, sales of sauces and marinades essentially stagnated in 2021, though still 20+% ahead of their 2019 levels. Sales will correct in 2022, as consumers more fully return to dining out and pandemic restrictions abate. Category brands have work to do to engage ...

Cheese - UK

“COVID-19 has provided a considerable boost to cheese thanks to its affordability, versatility and the increased cooking from scratch trend. Whilst an increased consumer focus on health and the environment poses a threat to the market, openness to vegan/plant-based alternatives offers a way to keep people engaged. The use ...

Frozen Breakfast - US

“Frozen breakfast players have many paths moving forward: leaning into occasional indulgence will bring satisfying variety to at-home routines; a play for portability can lessen the blow of the return to on-the-go occasions that might otherwise be lost to foodservice; improving natural positioning and nutritional value can strengthen health cred ...

Foodservice Disruptors - US

“Amidst a struggling industry, nimble and innovative operators are disrupting traditional foodservice models, adding automation and new operating formats as well as online engagement strategies to continue reaching consumers. Many of these efforts are responses to labor and supply chain issues and pandemic-influenced consumer patterns, but will become necessary investments ...

Beer - US

“The rebounding on-premise channel and consumers’ eagerness to reconnect with friends and family reconciled 2020 pandemic loss in the beer category. However, the longer-term impact of the pandemic has yet to be felt, and brands must act to address societal shifts in how consumers are spending their time and money ...

Better for You Eating Trends - US

“The better-for-you foods market has grown steadily in recent years, with the vast majority of adults making healthy food choices at least some of the time. The ongoing nature of COVID-19 has amplified this trend. Some 49% of consumers are choosing BFY products more often than a year ago, and ...

Cheese - US

“Following 2020’s accelerated category growth brought on by pandemic circumstances, 2021 category sales were tempered yet still positive, reflecting both the lingering nature of the pandemic’s impact balanced with, for many, a return to some old routines, including increased out-of-home activities. Yet, segment performance is disproportionate, with the natural and ...

Center of Store - US

“The shelf-stable and frozen food categories of the center store, long overshadowed by fresh perimeter departments, gained importance and attention in the COVID-19 pandemic as home-bound consumers looked to stock their pantries and freezers. While center store sales overall will inevitably revert to their slow-growth pre-pandemic pattern, retailers and marketers ...

Adults are taking their learnings from the previous year and applying them to how they care for their health now, with a strong ...

Dark Spirits - US

“The pandemic created short-term issues for the spirits market due to the reduction in on-premise expenditures but also accelerated existing trends that will ultimately benefit the spirits market in the long term. Specifically, the pandemic reinforced consumers’ preferences for higher-end spirits and contributed to increased spirit category engagement as consumers ...

Attitudes towards Frozen Foods - UK

“The COVID-19 pandemic drove strong sales growth for frozen foods in 2020; however, brands will need to disrupt shoppers’ habitual approach to buying frozen if they are to continue to grow sales in the ‘Next Normal’. Frozen foods with ethical attributes warrant further attention as these attract strong consumer interest ...

Pet Food - UK

“Cat and dog food’s sales growth was accelerated by the COVID-19 outbreak thanks to rapid growth of the cat and dog population, the premiumisation trend and growth of treats and snacks. The various aspect of pets’ holistic wellbeing pose the biggest opportunities and threats for the market, from helping owners ...

Wine - US

“As a mainstay of consumers’ alcohol repertoires, wine was able to reach those eager to reacclimate to on-premise drinking, as well as those who continued to primarily drink at home in 2021. The wine category has rebounded from 2020 dollar losses, though it did so in the context of overall ...

Yogurt and Yogurt Drinks - UK

Cooking in America - US

“Brands in the at-home food space are well positioned as the conditions surrounding the pandemic have led to an increased reliance on meals made at home. Currently, safety concerns around eating out combined with rising inflation are keeping consumers in their own kitchens. Fortunately for brands, this time spent cooking ...

Pub Visiting - UK

“The pub sector has been among the biggest casualties of the COVID-19 pandemic, with pubs forced to close during the three national lockdowns in 2020 and 2021 and operating under restrictions when allowed to open for the remainder of 2020 and long stretches of 2021, when consumers’ reticence about being ...

Tea and Other Hot Drinks - UK

“Tea and other hot drinks have benefited from the uptick in at-home food and drink occasions brought about by the COVID-19/coronavirus outbreak. While standard black tea looks set to face continued pressure from ever-growing competition, the focus on health puts herbal tea in a strong position to appeal thanks ...

The Vitamins, Minerals and Supplements Shopper - US

“The VMS market has been on an upward trajectory for many years, and this was only amplified during the beginning of the pandemic. In 2021 the number of adults who shopped for vitamins, minerals or supplement exclusively in-store decreased, while online shopping for these products increased – and many consumers ...

Bacon and Lunchmeat - US

“In the pandemic’s first year, with a significant number of consumers and school-aged children at home with few away-from-home food options, bacon and lunch meat saw dramatic increases in sales: 21% in 2020 and another 6% in 2021. Yet, this growth also reflects the strongly established usage patterns of the ...

“The image of yogurts and yogurt drinks as both health- and mood-boosting amid the heightened appeal of these benefits arising from the pandemic will support market growth, with scope to dial up these connotations. Meanwhile, exploring large, eco-friendly formats is timely given strong consumer interest and the sharper spotlight on ...

October 2021

Attitudes towards Pub Catering - UK

“COVID-19 has encouraged consumers to seek out high-quality experiences as well as support businesses in their local area. In order to respond pubs will need to update their menus to include dishes with locally sourced ingredients, premium meals that deliver a sense of occasion and modern sharing platters suited to ...

Foodservice Alcohol Trends - US

“The on-premise alcohol market is in a recovery period following the vaccine rollout; yet, the Delta variant’s spread, along with general financial uncertainty, has consumers rethinking their foodservice alcohol expenditures. Moreover, consumers developed new home-based drinking behaviors and routines over the course of the pandemic; these new home drinking behaviors ...

Poultry - US

“The retail poultry market received a substantial boost during the pandemic as consumers turned to home meal prep, but in the long run sales are likely to return to their historic slow-growth pattern. Poultry is a familiar staple in most households, and a key to accelerating growth may lie in ...

Vitamins and Supplements - UK

“Having grown strongly in 2020, sales of VMS have declined in 2021 due to consumers’ lessening health anxiety. Opportunity for growth lies in brands pushing a ‘prevention rather than cure’ approach in order to drive value sales in the long term. Organic products warrant further exploration, aligning well with consumers’ ...

Restaurant Breakfast and Brunch Trends - US

“After a tricky year, as consumers begin to return to more out-of-home, impulsive and on-the-go occasions, operators can take on a larger role in helping diners to navigate each day while also establishing new rituals. Many breakfast (and lunch) occasions are up for grabs, making this a good time for ...

Pizza - US

“The $8.1 billion pizza market is expected to grow an additional 1.9% in dollar sales in 2021 as consumers continue to work remotely, navigate economic uncertainty and face cooking fatigue, continuing reliance on convenient and affordable meal solutions. Still, future growth is somewhat stifled as consumers renew their ...

Food and Non-food Discounters - UK

“Despite concerns around their lack of ecommerce offering and potentially crowded stores, the discounters saw sales surge in pandemic-struck 2020. Looking ahead, the sector looks set to leave these turbulent 18 months behind with a spring in its step as continuing economic uncertainty makes their value-led proposition tempting for consumers ...

Marketing to Moms - US

“American moms experienced mixed feelings in the past year as they balanced feelings of thankfulness with others such as exhaustion, being overwhelmed and anxiety, as their workload was aggravated during the pandemic. Despite some uncertainty due to the new COVID-19 variant, moms understand it is time for their children to ...

The Gen Z Diner - US

“Gen Z is a generation with great influence, both financially and culturally, despite being a smaller group compared to Millennials and Baby Boomers. Teens already have great influence over where they eat with their family and friends, which shows that restaurants need to connect with Gen Z early on. As ...

Attitudes towards Sports Nutrition - UK

“Consumers focusing more on exercise and eating healthily post-COVID will drive relevance of sports nutrition products among a wider audience, but they face growing competition from high-protein products in mainstream food and drink categories. With an ageing population less intense, lower levels of exercise hold untapped potential, while the ‘positive ...

September 2021

Hot and Cold Cereal - US

“The $11.1 billion hot and cold cereal market is expected to face a 3.8% dollar sales decline in 2021 as consumers shift their breakfast routines outside the home. Still, prolonged remote working will enable cereal brands to position themselves as an easy, at-home breakfast during the workweek. Long-term ...

Milk and Non-dairy Milk - US

“The dairy and dairy alternative milk market is evolving at a rapid pace, with specialty dairy milks, plant-based offerings and pandemic-driven priorities in health, variety and ethics shaking up the aisle once characterized by generic commodity positioning.”

Attitudes towards Low- and No-alcohol Drinks - UK

“The low- and no-alcohol drinks market is well-placed to gain users as a result of the COVID-19/coronavirus outbreak, as health takes a more central stage in people’s food and drink considerations. There are many areas for brands to expand into to tempt consumers, whether it’s by offering drinks recipes ...

Fast Food Restaurants - UK

“The pandemic has changed the way consumers consume fast food. Instead of relying solely on spontaneous visits from consumers seeking a convenient meal solution while they are on the move, fast food operators are now meeting consumer demand for a fast food treat with a sense of occasion.”

Chocolate Confectionery - UK

“The government’s anti-obesity drive and consumers’ heightened health concerns, stoked by the pandemic, put pressure on the chocolate category to cut sugar. However, reformulations run the risk of deterring consumers. Companies therefore need to create products which deliver a significant sugar reduction alongside other appealing attributes. Vegan and vitamin/mineral-fortified ...

This increase in home coffee experimentation and exploration will benefit the coffee and creamer markets for years to come, and the rise of ...

Leisure Outlook - UK

“Consumer participation in leisure activities is at the highest level measured since the start of the pandemic, however things are far from back to normal as many people remain hesitant about visiting venues or attending events. Despite this, there is good reason for optimism as consumers who feel ready to ...

Fruit - US

“The fruit category is poised to maintain much of the sales momentum it gained over the course of the pandemic, particularly the fresh segment. Fresh fruit is unique in that it is perceived as inherently healthy and is the original in grab-and-go convenience, and it dominates category sales, controlling 90 ...

COVID-19 Impact on Food and Drink: One Year Later - US

“The COVID-19 pandemic afforded food and drink brands across the board an unparalleled opportunity to prove their worth. While the strong dollar gains will be short-lived, the relevance can resonate. 2021 will be marked with continued uncertainty for consumers eager to reclaim power as they navigate the opportunities and limitations ...

Consumer Snacking - UK

“The COVID-19 pandemic has seen an increase in snacking at home, both in the day and in the evening, including more comfort eating. The widely held view that less healthy snacks have a place as part of a balanced diet ensures continued opportunities for indulgent snacks. However, consumers' heightened focus ...

Ready Meals and Ready-to-cook Foods - UK

Foodservice Brand Ethics - US

Food and Drink - International

“The market was hit in 2020, but the easing of COVID-19 restrictions in 2021 will see busier lifestyles return, making the convenience of these meal solutions more attractive once again. Consumer interest in freshly-made ready meals, and the view of these foods as combatting food waste, hold potential for the ...

Soup - US

“The $8.7 billion soup market is expected to decline modestly in 2021 as consumers increasingly adopt pre-pandemic routines, reducing the demand for shelf stable foods such as canned soup. But some areas of the category continue to thrive due to their role in scratch cooking or their connections to ...

Prepared Meals - US

“While the prepared meals category got a substantial temporary sales boost during the pandemic as consumers cut back on foodservice spending, it had been generating modest growth before, driven by improvements in product quality, healthfulness and cuisine variety. Continued improvement in these areas will be necessary to keep the category ...

Soft Drinks Review - UK

“The COVID-19/coronavirus hit the UK soft drinks market; the lockdowns and restrictions leading to loss of high-value on-premise and out-of-home retail occasions with the uptick in at-home occasions failing to offset this. The outbreak has put a heightened spotlight on sustainability and the nation’s health, accelerating the need for ...

The Ethical Food Consumer - UK

Attitudes towards Healthy Eating - UK

“In recent years the percentage of diners making healthy choices has grown, and the majority of consumers who order from restaurants continue to select healthy menu items at least some of the time. However, the COVID-19 pandemic has caused a decline in balanced dining, with more consumers going the direction ...

Quick Service Restaurants - US

“Quick service restaurants stood to benefit the most from the COVID-19 crisis thanks to their affordability and their longstanding investments in drive-thru, takeout and delivery. They’re also viewed as the safest and most convenient meal solution for many American families right now and for the foreseeable future. QSRs will need ...

How America Eats - US

“The pandemic has not only boosted retail grocery sales, it has also at least temporarily changed the way Americans shop for and prepare food and how and when they eat. Snacking is growing more prevalent throughout the day and is also fulfilling a wider variety of needs, creating opportunities for ...

Pasta, Rice and Noodles - UK

“The pasta, rice and noodles market has enjoyed a sharp uplift thanks to COVID-19. While the move to the next normal will see sales ebb, the lasting rise in working from home, newly gained cooking skills and expected enduring plant-based trend all hold potential for the market. The consumer interest ...

Crisps, Savoury Snacks and Nuts - UK

“More people being at home all day during COVID-19 lockdown periods has supported growth in sales of crisps, savoury snacks and nuts, the biggest usage occasions being snacking during the day or the evening, and with lunch. Flavour innovation continues to be a major theme in NPD, including tapping interest ...

Full-service Restaurants - US

“Full-service restaurants are certainly feeling the effects of COVID-19 more intensely than their limited-service counterparts, but that does not mean they’re down for

Food and Drink - International

“Whilst the majority of people state that they try to eat healthily all or most of the time, this is in stark contrast to the true poor state of the nation’s health, which COVID-19 has shone a light on. This widespread mistaken belief of healthy habits will prove a challenge ...

Sports and Performance Drinks - US

“As Americans become increasingly engaged with a health and fitness mentality, the market will see a corresponding increase in diversity of users – and in turn, usage occasions. This will necessitate that innovations capture a broader range of health and wellness benefits. Functional wellness is quickly becoming the next barometer ...

the count. Current full-service patrons are highly engaged meaning operators have a prime opportunity to reach them with exciting on- and off-premise experiences. Restaurants will need to ...

What America Eats - US

“COVID-19 brightened the spotlight on food’s role in consumers’ lives. 67% of US adults put a lot of thought into what they eat, and 26% have turned to food and drink for comfort more often due to the pandemic. It also disrupted habits and behaviors in a way that leaves ...

In-store Bakery - US

“In-store bakery sales declined for the first time in more than a decade in 2020, as some retailers shut down bakeries during the initial phase of pandemic response and consumers turned to affordable aisle offerings and online shopping channels during a time of uncertainty and disruption. But the dip doesn’t ...

Convenience Store Foodservice - US

“Convenience stores’ foodservice sales are suffering during the pandemic due to far fewer drivers on the roads and an increase in online and bulk grocery shopping. Temporary halts of self-service foodservice options also hurt sales in 2020. C-stores must recover foodservice sales by stealing a page from restaurants’ playbooks and ...

Nutrition Drinks - US

“The nutrition drinks market is well situated to weather the current economic storm, thanks to the association of products in this category with general wellness and immune system health during a health-crisis-driven recession. Although the weight loss drinks segment suffered losses thanks to the lockdown, an unexpected uptick in sales ...

Crackers - US

“After nearly a half decade of no significant gains, cracker sales saw meaningful growth of 7% in 2020. The category saw a dramatic increase in sales during the early days of consumer stockpiling that have held largely steady from their year-ago performance, suggesting that consumers didn’t just stock up, they ...

Fruit Juice, Juice Drinks and Smoothies - UK

“COVID-19 has had a huge impact on the fruit juice, juice drinks and smoothies category. Nationwide lockdowns and restrictions saw many higher-value usage occasions through on-premise and on-the-go channels disappear overnight, the uptick in sales of larger formats not enough to compensate for this loss. Going forward, significant interest in ...

January 2021

Potato and Tortilla Chips - US

“Increased meals and snacking taking place at home not only gave rise to an already flourishing chips category, 2020 reinforced some of the category’s fundamental strengths. Chips are an anchor of the increasingly competitive snack market, not only a dominating sales force, but also delivering on the primary need state ...

How America Dines - US

“The pandemic has been an Earth-shattering event for the foodservice industry, one that will reshape the entire industry landscape and alter how Americans dine. The industry will emerge from the pandemic smaller and leaner as FSRs close and new small-footprint LSRs spring up focused primarily on takeout traffic. Consumers will ...

Restaurant Value and Pricing - US

“Value remains top of mind for dining decisions as many Americans cut back on foodservice spending due to the ongoing COVID-19 crisis and economic uncertainties. Restaurants must improve the convenience of their off-premise options via tech solutions for faster and effortless ordering, pickup and delivery to satisfy consumers’ needs and ...

Health Management Trends - US

“Personal health management is evolving as consumers encounter new health concerns, personal safety needs and heightened emotional stressors. Adults are focusing on managing health and wellness goals, with learnings from the previous year.
