

October 2007

Flavoured Alcoholic Beverages - UK

Sales have witnessed a decline from the heady heights of early 2000, largely due to the government imposing a higher tax rate on FABs in 2002, a new wave of social responsibility and an increasing competitive retail environment.