

B2B: Utilities and Energy - UK

March 2016

Gas Supply and Distribution - UK

“During the current control period RII0-GD1 from 2013 to 2021, asset management and demand-side responses (working with consumers to reduce demand rather than increase generation) are likely to be the most significant areas of innovation, with smart technology expected to play a key role. Increased collaboration between network operators is ...