

July 2013

Consumer Attitudes Towards Debt - UK

“Online budgeting tools have significant potential for growth. Just over half of the internet population show an interest in using this type of service in the future. Under-45s and higher earners are much more likely than average to see the appeal of tools that help them to keep track of ...